

JERI LEIGH SISS

Jeri Leigh Siss is a dynamic corporate facilitator, educator, and coach who brings two decades of experience in training, leadership development, and strategic support across both small business and corporate landscapes. With warmth, wisdom, and presence, she blends professional insight with personal connection to create environments where participants are seen, heard, and empowered.

Jeri Leigh believes clarity and confidence are the foundation for empowered action. Her facilitation style helps individuals and teams recognize the tools available to them—and develop the awareness of how and when to use them. She brings both heart and strategy to every room she enters, guiding individuals and teams through meaningful transformation grounded in deep listening, practical insight, and a strong sense of possibility.

Outside of her work with SHINE, she is the founder of The Clarity Companion, a coaching and facilitation practice that supports individuals and organizations through strategic life and professional transitions. Her work includes both 1:1 and group-based facilitation, offering space for personal growth, business evolution, and values-based decision-making. Through this practice, she also provides business strategy consultation to emerging and evolving companies, working closely with heart-led entrepreneurs and values-driven organizations to elevate personal fulfillment and professional direction.

She holds a BA in Liberal Studies and Communications and an MBA in Marketing. Her professional background spans 20 years in consultative sales, training, and leadership development in both corporate and small business settings. She is a Licensed Registered Financial Investment Advisor Representative, a group fitness instructor, and an engaged community leader through her local Rotary International Club, Village Council, Big Brothers Big Sisters, and community and economic development initiatives.
